Bataan Defenders Take Up New Positions

PENETRATION IS CAUSE OF WITHDRAWAL

Retirement of American and Filipino Forces is for Purpose of Preventing Disastrous Rout

BURMA FRONT GRAVE

BY ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor
Out-numbered American and Filipino defenders of Bataan peninsula have effected a general withdrawal to new defensive positions because of Japanese penetration of their line, the war department said today.

Official quarters in Washington said there was no indication of the extent of the withdrawal, but that it was accomplished in a planned manner despite the ferocity of the Japanese assault.

It was the fifth day of intensive attack by Lieut.-Gen. Yamashita's numerically superior invasion forces, which have been constantly hammering at the American-Filipino lines with tanks, heavy artillery fires and aerial bombardment since Saturday.

The present retirement was carried out to prevent the enemy from converting the break into a disastrous rout, it was understood.

As a last extremity, the defenders could withdraw entirely from Bataan peninsula's shot-torn jungles and foxholes to the rocky Corregidor island fortress in Manila Bay.

Meanwhile, new hope arose for a settlement which would enroll India's 390,000,000 whole-heartedly on the side of the Allies.

On the Burma front, next door to India, the situation remained extremely grave, with Japan's invasion columns reforming to attack British troops for holding a line only 65 miles south of the rich central Burma oil fields.

British military quarters gave this description of the campaign, intimating ultimate disaster unless reinforcements arrive:

"The Japanese attack with superior forces. We stay as long as we can, inflict as much loss as we can, gain as much time as we can, and then go back to the next suitable position."

From his United Nations headquarters in Australia, Gen. Douglas MacArthur was reported in frequent touch with the battle-torn defenders of Bataan.

QUAKE RECORDED

Pasadena, Calif., April 8—(P)—An earthquake described as "very severe" was recorded today on instruments at Pasadena Institute of Technology. Seismologists said it began at 8:54.40 (PWT) and was continuing with intensity an hour later.

Two Special Days in May

Washington, April 8—(P)—President Roosevelt today designated Sunday, May 17, as "I Am an American" Day and urged that it be observed in a manner to impress on all citizens "the duties and opportunities of citizenship and its special responsibilities in a nation at war."

He said in a proclamation it was even more essential in time of war than in time of peace for a people to understand fully "the form and genius of their government and the responsibilities of citizenship."

In another proclamation, the president set aside Sunday, May 10, as Mother's Day, again under terms of an act of Congress.

He ordered the flag flown from all government buildings on that day and asked the people also to fly the flag on their homes and by tokens of affection to "express the love and reverence which we feel for the mothers of our country."

War Production Board Turns Stylist For American Women

Decrees Dresses May Not Be Longer or Fuller Than At Present

FRILLS TO BE ELIMINATED

Washington, April 8—(P)—The War Production Board, turning stern stylist for American women, decreed today that, for the duration of the war, dresses can be shorter and shorter, or tighter and tighter—as fashion dictates—but neither longer nor fuller than those now worn.

Or, millady's wardrobe can remain about the same, in cut and design, as it is at present.

Emphasizing that it had no intention of "freezing" present styles, or rendering present wardrobes obsolete, WPB established a complete list of specifications covering future manufacture of women's clothes and ordered such frills as French cuffs on sleeves, balloon sleeves and patch pockets of wool eliminated entirely.

After Aug. 17, retailers may not sell suit and coat ensembles of more than two pieces at one unit price.

The restrictions become effective for wool clothing tomorrow—in time to affect production of most of the garments to be sold next fall and winter; restrictions on cotton, rayon and other materials do not become effective until June 19—after most of this summer's production.

LATE WAR BULLETINS

Melbourne, Australia, April 8—(P)—The Australian showgoers now are hearing "The Star Spangled Banner" and "God Bless America" along with their own anthems.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) April 8—(P)—German bombers, striking 150 miles beyond the Russian battlefield, raided an airplane engine works at Voronezh Monday night, causing heavy destruction, the German radio reported today.

Berlin (From German Broadcasts) April 8—(P)—German bombers started large fires in attacks on the harbor and dock installations of the Humber Estuary of eastern England, the high command said today.

Folkestone, England, April 8—(P)—Squadron after squadron of RAF planes roared across the English channel for a half hour today in the early morning sunlight. Vapor trails high in the sky off the French coast between Cap Gris Nez and Calais indicated German fighters engaged the Britons.

London, April 8—(P)—Vidkun Quisling, puppet premier of German-occupied Norway, has declared that the Norwegian clergymen who recently resigned en masse "must without ceremony be treated as traitors," a Stockholm dispatch of the (Free) Norwegian telegraph agency said today.

Tokyo (From Japanese Broadcasts) April 8—(P)—Imperial headquarters said today that Japanese forces on Java had captured 82,618 prisoners, including 883 Americans.

LEGISLATURE CLEARINGWAY TO ADJOURN

Assembly Moves Swiftly to Finish Task of Changing State Laws Likely to Be Hindrance

BILLS KILLED IN HOUSE

Harrisburg, April 8—(P)—Driving toward final adjournment of the special session by 4 p. m. Friday, the general assembly moved swiftly today to finish the task of changing state laws likely to interfere with the war program.

Both branches agreed on the time for ending the eight-week-long session called primarily to cut the state's congressional delegation from 24 to 33, a job quickly accomplished.

Clearing the way for sine die adjournment, house leaders decided to kill two bills passed by the senate yesterday.

One would require approval of the governor, speaker of the house and president pro tempore of the senate for any departmental regulations issued in connection with laws changed to help the war program.

The other would allow school boards—with approval of the department of public instruction—to short-cut some provisions of the school code. It would allow, for example, shortening of school terms so children 14 years or older could work on farms and in domestic service.

Rep. Leo A. Achterman, the Democratic floor leader, said there was no need for either bill at this time.

Meanwhile, a conference committee was called to discuss a bill to limit benefits for dependents of (Turn to Page Five)

WITHDRAWAL CALLED "THE SAME OLD STORY"

London, April 8—(P)—The British withdrawal from Promote to new positions north of Tramey on the Burma front was "the same old story of the last two or three weeks," a military commentator said today.

"The Japanese attack with superior forces," he said. "We stay as long as we can, inflict as much loss as we can, gain as much time as we can, and then go back to the next suitable position."

At present, he said, there is a pause in fighting while the Japanese re-form.

MACARTHUR KEEPS IN TOUCH WITH BATAAN

United States Army Headquarters, Australia, April 8—(P)—General Douglas MacArthur is in touch with the American-Filipino defenders of Bataan, his spokesman disclosed today.

The spokesman did not disclose any details, but said that MacArthur had received reports from Lieutenant General Jonathan M. Wainwright, who took up his command when MacArthur came to Australia.

ICE JAM CONTINUES AT SAULT STE. MARIE

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., April 8—(P)—The ice jam of Whitefish Bay continued to restrict movements of Great Lakes boats today, but the situation was reported to be easing.

With only a single channel opened through the ice field, no up-bound passages were permitted and vessels were accumulating in the harbors of St. Mary's river.

Gas Cut Soon Is Predicted

Washington, April 8—(P)—A further sharp cut in the amount of gasoline available for motorists in the east and Pacific northwest was forecast today, pending development of a card rationing system.

Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum coordinator, said it was clear that the recent 20 percent reduction in filling station supplies was not sufficient, and that "the curtailment will have to go deeper than that."

Oil industry sources said it was probable that the supply for filling stations would have to be cut to 33 1/3 percent below normal, and that the new cut would be effective within a week.

The petroleum coordinators' office is renewing its efforts to obtain priorities on steel to start building an oil pipeline east from Texas.

Last Record Produced At Victor Plant

"His Master's Voice" Is Finally Silenced For The Duration

PESSIMISTIC WARNING

Philadelphia, April 8—(P)—"His Master's Voice"—a sales slogan known in millions of homes for more than 40 years—has been silenced by the war.

The RCA-Victor Manufacturing Company's last phonograph-radio to be made for civilian use for the duration—No. 17,991,547—came off the assembly line yesterday in ceremonies formally marking the plant's conversion to the exclusive production of war materials.

William L. Batt, director of the raw materials division of the War Production Board, accepted the instrument as a gift from RCA and turned it over to the Georgia Warm Springs Foundation.

Batt told more than 1,000 RCA executives and employees that Americans may find the next few months "very disturbing" as the nation goes through the worst of our growing pains of transforming from peacetime production to war production.

"It is likely that we shall have more—much more—bad news," he said. "There may be other Pearl Harbors, another Singapore, but if we have the courage of our ancestors at Valley Forge, at Chancellorsville, at Gettysburg, if we have vision, if we keep our feet on the ground and avoid hysteria, then this great nation will soon be welded into a dynamic fighting machinery that no force on earth can ever crush."

TWO DECORATED FOR ACTION GALLANTRY

Washington, April 8—(P)—Private Charles R. Greer, 22 of Turtle Creek, Pa., and Private Alexander Katchuck, 25, Sacramento, Calif., of the U. S. Marines, have been awarded the first army decorations for "gallantry in action" in the Philippines by General Douglas MacArthur, the navy announced.

Greer and Katchuck each received a silver star for rescuing wounded men in a truck which had been abandoned during activities December 29, 1941.

Postpone War Profits Issue

Washington, April 8—(P)—Congress, still much at odds on the most effective way to limit war profits, today postponed further controversy on the question until April 16.

The house originally approved a flat six per cent limitation, but the senate decided after much discussion yesterday to vest discretionary authority over profits in the secretary of war, secretary of navy and chairman of the maritime commission.

The senate wrote its decision into the $19,212,773,260 war appropriation bill, and returned the measure to the house for ultimate adjustment of the differences of opinion on the profit curb issue.

Earlier discussions, however, will not start until late next week, for the senate, after acting on the bill, started its delayed Easter recess.

RIVAL UNIONS PLEDGE LABOR FOR VICTORY

Presidents of CIO and AFL Meet on Same Platform Before Cheering Audience in Pittsburgh

CRITICS ARE ANSWERED

BY DUKE MORAN

Pittsburgh, April 8—(P)—CIO President Philip Murray and AFL President William Green, rivals in peacetime but united in war, symbolized labor's unity last night by pledging their organized millions to "stand together" to help win the war and exhorting labor's critics to "join labor, not stab us in the back."

The two labor leaders met on a speaker's platform—for the first time since labor's ranks split in 1936—before a cheering audience of more than 4,000 workers at a joint AFL-CIO "unite for victory" rally in Syria Mosque.

The ruddy-faced Green, in thunderous overtones, and the soft-spoken Murray called upon their followers to "produce, produce and produce" for victory. Then they each answered the "unthinking people" they charged with attacking labor and questioning labor's patriotism.

Both spoke extemporaneously before voicing their pledges of unity and answers to labor's critics in a nationwide broadcast over the Mutual network. Paul V. McNutt, federal security administrator, joined them in the broadcast.

Green referred to Murray as "my dear friend" and later as "my friend, my collaborator and fellow-American." In token, he said, of this spirit of unity and cooperation between the two labor organizations, Murray in turn expressed his "pride and personal gratification" to appear on the platform with Green and said their presence together "tells beyond words that we know that this is labor's war."

Both Green and Murray said the labor peace was effected at the request of President Roosevelt and Green added that they had "assured the president" labor would relinquish the right to strike voluntarily.

PHILADELPHIA HAS BIG DEMONSTRATION

Philadelphia, April 8—(P)—Uncle Sam's fighting men paraded their power before an alternately gay and grim throng of 500,000 Philadelphians last night in the city's first big demonstration of the new war.

The turnout of spectators was the largest since the Democratic national convention of 1936, James H. Malone, director of public safety, said. The parade climaxed the city's Army Day celebration.

Nearly 15,000 persons—3,500 of them in army, navy or marine uniforms—marched down the Benjamin Franklin parkway to Independence Hall to military music from a dozen bands.

President and Nelson Differ On Bonus Pay

Washington, April 8—(P)—President Roosevelt and his war production chief, Donald M. Nelson, differed openly today on the wisdom of wartime cash bonuses for workers who set a fast pace in vital arm industries.

Nevertheless, there were numerous signs that the hotly debated controversy over wages and hours might be edging nearer a solution, despite the continuing surface turmoil.

Mr. Roosevelt, while intimating that there might be an announcement on the wage question soon, told his press conference yesterday that he was utterly opposed to the wartime bonus plan because men in such a national emergency ought to produce all they could. He added he also disapproved bonuses in peace time on a piece-work basis.

The chief executive's remarks ran counter to those of Nelson, who endorsed the bonus or "incentive pay" plan during an appearance before a senate committee on March 20. Making the simultaneous suggestion that plants and employees be given merit awards for out-standing work, he said that such a system might eliminate labor "slow downs." Nelson acknowledged, however, that it could be applied only in certain major war industries.

Mass Invasion Of Continent Believed Planned By Allies

Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, arrived in London today on the heels of British reports that the bulk of the American army was training for a mass invasion of continental Europe.

Gen. Marshall was accompanied by Harry Hopkins, chairman of the British-American munitions assignments boards, and by senior military advisers.

London newspapers yesterday declared American and British expeditionary forces eventually would strike together at the heart of industrial Germany through France.

Thousands of American troops already are training in battle maneuvers in northern Ireland.

Recent dispatches have suggested that if British and American forces should open a second front, as repeatedly urged by Russia, they might attack along the French channel coast or through Norway.

New Offer Is Made India by British Envoy

Formula for Handling Defense Reported Worked Out at New Delhi

JOHNSON IN SPOTLIGHT

BY H. R. STIMSON

New Delhi, India, April 8—(P)—A new formula for handling Indian defense was reported worked out today at an All-India Congress party committee session and semi-official sources declared that the way might yet be cleared for a settlement under which India would attain a national government and take up her full part in the war.

It was intimated that Louis Johnson, former United States assistant secretary of war who came here as President Roosevelt's personal emissary, had played a prominent part as mediator in averting a deadlock on Britain's offer to the Indians.

The new plan for dealing with responsibility for defense, heretofore a stumbling block in the way of Congress Party acceptance of the autonomy proposal, was said to have developed at a morning session of the party's working committee.

The plan was said to have been turned over to party leaders, and the committee continued in session. (Turn to Page Nine)

ANTHRACITE REGION ENCOURAGED BY NEWS

Washington, April 8—(P)—The Pennsylvania anthracite industry's persistent attempts to bring new industrial life to the hard coal region apparently were bearing fruit today with President Roosevelt lending his support to the campaign.

The president announced he had sent the federal anthracite commission's report on conditions in the area to the army, navy, plant site board and the war production board to try to locate new industries there.

The commission submitted its report—based on a survey of the region's suitability for war plants—to the president last week, listing 11 recommendations for immediate and long term improvement.

U. S. AND MEXICO HAVE PROGRAM

Washington, April 8—(P)—Two Japanese merchant ships totaling 15,000 tons have been sunk by an American submarine operating in the China sea—the 52nd and 53rd Japanese vessels destroyed or damaged by American undersea craft in the Pacific theater.

One was a 10,000-ton cargo-passenger ship, the other a 5,000-ton cargo vessel. The navy said the submarine had been on an extended patrol.

49 Policemen Are Indicted

New York, April 8—(P)—Two extraordinary grand juries, working under the direction of Special Assistant Attorney General John Harlan Amen in Brooklyn, handed up today six separate presentments naming 49 police officers, including a retired deputy chief inspector, together with four lawyers.

Amen said that the paid police protection of a $100,000,000 a year gambling syndicate with a legal department composed of expert attorneys was disclosed by the presentments.

Exposure of this alleged organized gambling syndicate, composed of the operators of policy games, dice games, lotteries, and bookmaking establishments, was characterized by Amen as only the first chapter of his investigation during the last 11 months of information and complaints that members of the police department were selling "protection" to the policy, bookmaking and general gambling racket in an amount exceeding hundreds of thousands of dollars annually.

Contained in the presentments were more than 100 photographs made from motion picture film.

tory Week, Saturday, April 13. They will be used in Warren itself, in the smaller communities, and throughout the rural sections of the county, in collecting and bringing to a central point the scrap iron, paper, old rubber, old rags, and all the other scrap items so necessary to the nation's war production. In addition to the use of the truck on April 13, each participant is urged also to permit his truck to be used in the gigantic Victory parade at 7:15 p. m. Wednesday, April 15.

SHOW BOAT GIRL

By ROBERTA COURTLAND

Chapter 27
New World

BECAUSE Ann and Todd had asked her for dinner, Melissa felt a little better. Indeed, she was almost passionately grateful for Todd's and Ann's arrival, and went down to meet them in the lobby of her hotel, a girl so pretty and smart-looking that more than one head turned to follow her with admiring eyes as she joined Todd and Ann.

From the sidewalk, it was simply another club; but inside the interior amusingly resembled a stable. Todd and Ann were obviously expected, for they were greeted by name, and a head-waiter, in the garb of a coachman, guided them to a table placed at the edge of the scrap of dance-floor. It was a gay little party, and Melissa would have been less than human if she had not felt her spirits lift a little.

"This," Todd told them all, "is that dance act I've been booking. They're really good."

The music changed, quickening its tempo, and out on the floor drifted a rather tall, rangy-looking girl and a man a little taller than she. Their dance was eccentric, gay, fantastic—but after the first startled, incredulous moment Melissa forgot all about the dance itself because she had recognized the dancers! They were Alice and Hugh, from the show boat.

Melissa turned swiftly to Todd. "It's Alice and Hugh, from the River Queen," she accused him swiftly. "Why didn't you tell me they were here?"

"Because Hendricks made me swear that I wouldn't," answered Todd a trifle grimly.

Startled, Melissa asked, "But why should he do that?"

"I gathered that he wanted you to be all washed up with the show boat atmosphere and all that means," answered Todd, and there was a slightly anxious look in his eyes.

"Come along, youngster—I'll take you to their dressing-room," he added, and Melissa trotted eagerly beside him along a narrow corridor that had several doors opening at the side. Todd paused at one of these and knocked.

"Come in," called a voice that Melissa recognized as Alice's.

Todd pushed open the door, and Melissa all but bounced into the room. Hugh and Alice stared at her, startled, and for a moment unwelcoming. And then Alice said quietly, "Hello, Melissa—how's tricks?"

"Alice!" said Melissa, and her voice shook a little as she embraced Alice's rather unyielding form. "I was so glad to see anybody in my life."

"Really?" said Alice, her voice chilly, her manner aloof. "Hugh, how about stepping outside with me for a minute, and leaving these women to chin a bit? I've a little proposition that I think will interest you," suggested Todd hastily.

When Hugh and Todd had gone, Melissa said swiftly, "Alice, what are you and Hugh doing here, away from the show boat?"

"When Ace sold out, Hugh and I moved out," answered Alice, and then, with a trace of resentment, she added tartly, "Did you think you were the only person on the show boat with talent enough to get away?"

Randy's Plan

MELISSA stared at her. "Why, Alice, you're—you're angry with me. What have I done?" she stammered.

"Nothing at all—but Ace made it quite plain before we left the show boat that he wanted you to be free of any faint reminder of the River Queen or any of its people. And apparently you agreed with him."

"I didn't know until I saw you and Hugh come out on the floor tonight that you were within a thousand miles of here, and you darned well know I'd have broken my neck, just about, to see you if I had known it," said Melissa swiftly.

Alice studied her sharply. "I suppose I was not to have understood, only we had been such friends on the River Queen, and I've been as lonely as the devil since we came to town, and I suppose I sort of grew a chip on my shoulder."

"But you said Randy had sold the show boat. Why, Alice? And where is he? What's he doing that's such a secret?"

"Well, he sold the show boat and turned everything he had in the world into cash and bought out the Plantation Lady Products company—everything to make the Lady Beautiful—and put Todd Beasley in as head of the promotion department—promoting you, chiefly, baby," answered Alice succinctly.

Melissa said unsteadily, "But—but why should Randy do all this—give up his business and everything—just for me?"

Alice grinned wisely. "Well, speaking purely from personal observation, my dear little nit-wit, I'd say it was because the lug was in love with you," she answered firmly.

For a moment a storm of joy shook Melissa as a spring gale shakes a young sapling. And then she pulled herself together and shook her head, her face white, her mouth a taut line.

"It couldn't be that," she said swiftly, her voice shaken a little. "If he had cared for me at all, he couldn't have hurt me so."

"He could, if he thought it was for your own good," Alice pointed out wisely.

Melissa had listened as though it were all so wonderful she couldn't believe it. "You—you wouldn't say things like that if you didn't really mean them, would you, Alice?"

"Of course not, youngster," said Alice, and her voice was warm and kind. "Understand me, Melissa—you may never lay eyes on the lug again, for he's got a terribly exaggerated idea of his reputation and its harmful effects on your future and all that truck. But whether you ever see him again or not, there's one thing you can bank on—the man's just plain nuts about you!"

Melissa drew a long, unsteady breath and said quietly, "Thank you, Alice, for everything."

Alice grinned the old gay, wise, shrewd grin that Melissa had loved aboard the show boat.

"Think nothing of it, kid—the ways a pleasure to help a pal. Even if Ace would be fit to be tied if he knew I'd tipped you off to his noble gesture."

There was a knock at the door, and Hugh thrust his head in. "Not that I want to break up the party, but I do have to change for the next number!" he suggested plaintively.

Melissa stood up instantly.

"I'm sorry, Hugh—I'll run along," she apologized.

"Lover, Come Back"

THE orchestra surveyed Melissa a trifle grimly as she presented herself for the next morning's rehearsal. Through that mysterious grapevine system of the theatrical business, the fact that Barton had refused to coach her any longer, because he quite frankly considered her hopeless, had already reached them.

"I suppose it's to be 'Lonesome Road' again?" suggested Jerry grimly.

"No," answered Melissa. "If you don't mind, could we try 'Lover, Come Back' from 'The New Moon'?"

Jerry said, startled, "A torch-song?"

"But why not? If you're carrying a torch and everybody knows it," said Melissa quietly. "What's wrong about mentioning it publicly?"

Jerry grinned. "I get it—good old 'heart-on-your-sleeve' business? Broadway loves it," he returned, and turned to the boys.

There was a momentary confusion; then the first bars of music came. After a moment Melissa lifted her head, took the slim silver throat of the microphone in her two hands as Barton had taught her to do and began to sing. He had placed her voice considerably below her usual range; it came low, throaty, faintly husky, warm, and vibrant; most of all, it was alive.

When the last throbbing note had died away Jerry stared at her almost in awe and said half under his breath, "Good Lord!"

And there was a little entirely spontaneous burst of applause from the orchestra.

"If you can do it like that opening night, Miss Marlowe—we're in!" said Jerry heartily and in deep relief.

"I'll do it like that—don't worry," said Melissa, and turned away from the microphone, and then, with a matter of radio history by now, The little girl from nowhere, the show boat singer, stepped before the microphone on the Plantation Lady half-hour and simply knocked the listening audience into a couple of loops.

And after that opening night, Ann and Todd, flushed and gay and excited, bore down upon her and Ann said busily, "Look, angel-face, you're coming to a party. It's pretty swank and high-hat and all that, but I don't think you'll be too bored."

The taxi deposited them before an impressive white-fronted apartment house in the East Sixties. A doorman in a gold-braided green uniform ushered them into the lobby, and an elevator shot them to the top floor.

A man of middle age, very well tailored, came forward and Ann introduced Melissa.

He greeted Melissa with frank pleasure.

"I heard your program; my dear, you were charming," he said pleasantly. "We're going to hear a lot about you, I feel sure. I'm deeply honored to have you here as my guest tonight. We'll make it a celebration of your success."

Melissa thanked him, pink with pleasure. Others came up; attractive young men; pretty girls; smart young career women like Ann.

She was dancing with one of the good-looking well-tailored young men, laughing up at him, when she saw a slight commotion at the door. And then her foot caught, and she forgot to dance, for in that group was a man who looked like Randy. Of course, it couldn't be Randy, she told her startled throbbing heart.

TO FINANCE WAR
Announcement that the sale of War Savings Stamps and Bonds throughout Warren county will be launched with a gigantic "Three-in-One" Victory parade next Wednesday evening is another reminder that every resident of the county must do his or her share toward helping to finance the staggering cost of the war in which our nation is engaged.

There can be no shirking of this responsibility. It is just as important as sending our boys to the fighting lines or keeping the wheels of industry turning at top speed to produce the implements of war.

It should be remembered that pledges sought in the coming campaign will be made voluntarily. They will not be legally binding, but the moral obligation is so strong that everyone should pledge as much as possible and live up to his pledge without fail unless prevented from doing so by death, illness or unemployment. Unless this is done everywhere throughout the nation, compulsory purchase of War Savings Bonds undoubtedly will be ordered in the near future.

Now is the time to plan and prepare for making liberal pledges in the coming campaign. Refusal to pledge as liberally as possible not only will be unpatriotic, but actually will jeopardize our chances of preserving the liberty which has been our heritage from former generations.

IT'S PATRIOTIC TO HELP SAVE WOOL

So you don't like the idea of cuffless trousers! Why not? They're going to be the prevailing style this year, next year and perhaps in 1944, unless we can whip the Japs and Germans before that time. What's more they're going to be a stamp of patriotism.

And here's a little added information that you probably didn't know and which may surprise you: Any wool cuffs, wool pieces, wool scraps can be returned and be re-woven. For example—If all men's suits now in use had the cuffs removed, and all men's suits in retail stores today were sold cuffless, it would save twenty million yards of wool clips averaging 44 inches in width. These clips will make nine million pounds of re-used wool, which in turn will make eleven million yards of cloth, or enough for three and one-half million suits or uniforms!

Cuffless trousers are patriotic! Quit your crabbing! Help save wool!

WOMEN'S CLOTHES RESTRICTED

According to dispatches from Washington famous dress designers, fashion editors, merchants and cross-section of consumers gave prompt approval to the War Production Board's restrictions on manufacture of women's clothes, as detailed in another column of this issue.

Briefly the order decrees that for the duration of the war "dresses can be shorter and shorter, or tighter and tighter—as fashion dictates—but neither longer nor fuller than those now worn." In other words, milady's wardrobe can remain about the same, in cut and design, as it is at present. The restriction becomes effective for wool clothing tomorrow.

A poll by the National Retail Dry Goods Association indicates a general belief in the fashion industry that the new specifications, designed to conserve materials, would result in increased originality by dress designers and few if any changes in women's appearance.

It's a safe bet the North Warren Civic Club is going to dish out plenty to the American Red Cross before the war is ended under the program of paying $10 each for Japanese battleships, $5 for each cruiser, and $2.50 for each submarine or destroyer officially reported sunk by the U. S. navy, but the boys up there will be game to the last battleship.

Don't forget to send in your personal items for that "Boys in the Service" column!

How's your supply of Easter eggs holding out?

Hope April doesn't become too fickle!

YOUR PLACE IN THE WAR EFFORT

WASHINGTON IN WARTIME

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—For my money, the bible of civilian defense is a book titled simply "Civilian Defense of the United States." It is written by Col. R. Ernest Dupuy and Lieut. Hodding Carter.

I met the colonel some years ago when he and Maj. George Fielding Elliot were harping on the then unpopular string of all-out national defense with a book called "If War Comes." The colonel went on with the armed forces, the major continued literary.

The colonel, after an interlude as a West Point brass hat, is now in Washington and in a position to be as authentic as a Bureau of Engraving $5 bill. The lieutenant likewise.

YET the frontpiece of their book on civilian defense carries the caution: "Opinions expressed and conclusions drawn in this book are those of the authors. They must not be construed as necessarily reflecting the official opinion of the Office of Civilian Defense, of the War Department, or of the services in general."

I wouldn't mention this except that I don't believe it. The acknowledgments give credit to almost every person in Washington who has anything to do with civilian defense. The authors may have libeled somebody but they NOT only haven't been sued, they haven't even been shouted at.

Their book covers everything that has anything to do with civilian protection of the nation.

It starts with such simple definitions as: "The civilian's defense (against modern enemies) is organization for his own protection. His counterattack is production and the maintenance of a national morale that will outlast the enemy's."

The book is matter-of-fact. In spots it's even dull. But the authors have not gone about their business without imagination. For instance there is that preface to Chapter XII, "Women in Defense," which starts off with a mention that Helen of Troy never rolled a bandage or drove an ambulance; Penelope never knit a sweater; and Florence Nightingale had to break down a door to get medical supplies because the soldier men of those days thought a woman's place was anywhere but in the fighting line. From there on they approach a dozen pages to prove that women are not only vital in democracy's arsenal, but important as near-front combat forces.

The authors strike the keynote of their realistic views on labor when they quote the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company's plant placard: "Don't Let 'Em Catch Us With Our Plants Down."

I can't think of a subject that has to do with civilian defense that Colonel Dupuy and Lieutenant Carter haven't dealt with.

They discuss everything from the fact that this war "is a civilian's war," to the intricacies of a b o t a g e, transportation, and health and welfare under wartime conditions; picking up such things as the use of gas, fire protection and medical preparedness, on the way.

MAN ABOUT MANHATTAN

By GEORGE TUCKER

NEW YORK—Though most of the long green in his poke came from exhibiting tigers and water-babies, Billy Rose likes to spend it on portraits and landscapes—preferably in the original. The walls of his drawing rooms, guest rooms, his own room, the halls, and for all I know the kitchen have their special freight of canvases, modern begins to hold forth on what art is supposed to approximate his eyes assume the feverish expectancy of a hungry insurance salesman about to land an important client. I find these unprogrammed lectures diverting, for they are always couched in an idiom that stylists could never emulate and indeed which could never be duplicated at all save by a dictaphone.

He had pointed out the virtues of art to Clifford Odets one day, and he asked that moody and often dour playwright what he thought.

"I think," said Odets "you talk like a man who adopts five children and then brags about his fertility."

It seems as if things are always happening to Toscanini. The other day we told you how he made the NBC symphony play the Star Spangled Banner standing up. Now he runs into another little incident that kills off a perfectly good little plan of his. For years Tosky has wanted to con-

Victory Parade next Wednesday evening has received assurances that although uniforms have not arrived, the new Struthers-Wells

$50,000 for one 90-millimeter anti-aircraft gun sounds like a lot of money, doesn't it? But this type gun is a real "plane-crasher" — one shell from it can smash a half-million dollar Jap bomber quicker than you can eat a fly.

THIS ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUN COSTS $50,000

YOUR HOUSE may not be a military target, but bombs don't stop to inquire. Bombs don't ask your name or the names of your children, either. In this war, as in no other in history, we are all targets. Black-outs merge soldiers and civilians alike. "War is hell" . . . for all of us. And it is costly . . . for all of us.

Take the anti-aircraft guns that must be counted on to protect your home, your family. Did you know that just one costs $50,000? Just one—and we need 20,000 at once . . . for the fighting front as well as the home front.

Who's going to pay the bill? Not only for the guns, but for the tanks and ships and planes our boys must have to smash the Axis?

Who? Why all of us, . . . you and I and the man next door. Because we are all in this war, and because blood and tears and sweat don't mean a thing if they do not come from everybody. Everybody must put every dime and dollar he can spare into Bonds and Stamps, even if it means going without something else . . . remembering that we are apt to go without everything, unless we win. Here is one sure way to turn your patriotism into action and to help win this war—go to your local bank, post office, or other official agency for Bonds now!

Remember you can start buying Bonds by buying Stamps for as little as 10c and that you get a $25.00 Bond (maturity value) for only $18.75.

Bowlers Continue To Riddle Pins; Myron Check Rolls 635 Set

Pounding away with remarkable accuracy for the third successive week, the Arcade City League rollers roared into the stretch of the league campaign last night with the Myron Check Restaurant copping team honors after racking up a 2980 total.

It was a "bummer" for the start as the Myron Check five clinched four points from Bob Ritchie's B. & B. Smoke Shop, and yet not one member of the winning combination hit a 600 series. Tops was John Waples' 597, while low was Miller's 584, a difference of only 13 pins.

Myron Check kept his average on the up beat with the best individual effort for the night as the Texas Lunch lost three to the Recreation Center. Check had games of 232-192-211 for 635, but it wasn't enough to claim more than the first game point for the Lunchmen. The Warren Baking Company dropped the first game but picked themselves up to cop the last three points in their match with McCabe's Restaurant. Nummy Wooster batted out a 614 set on games of 217-191-216 to lead the winning attack.

Darling's weren't up to par, but managed to claim four points from the V. F. W., with Harold Bjers mainly responsible for the triumph, turning in a 601 series.

Honor roll scores: Logan 224, F. Gerardi 224, N. Wooster 217, Ross 226, Christiansen 212, Hagberg 218, M. Blech 212, Glunt 216, Check 232, Schussler 219, Grosch 236, E. Hoagvall 211, Waples 219, Willard 210, P. Juliano 213, Johnson 210, H. Bjers 222.

Rudolph Gives Pair Of Fine Exhibitions

Large crowds greeted Erwin Rudolph, world champion pocket billiard player, in two exhibitions held last evening and were treated to some outstanding play.

With a high run of 80, Rudolph defeated Jack Culbertson at the Elks Club by a score of 125 to 10. He followed the match with an exhibition of trick and fancy shots and a period of instruction to members of the club.

A similar exhibition at the Warren Billiard Academy preceded the appearance at the Elks.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

By the Associated Press
Lexington, Ky.—After watching the feeble efforts of his Boston Red Sox against the Cincinnati Reds yesterday at Louisville, Manager Joe Cronin sent all his players to the famous bat factory for new supplies. They will use them this afternoon against the same Reds.

Augusta, Ga.—Manager Hans Lobert of the Philadelphia Phils. has sent two of his players home because of injuries. Al Glossop, up from Kansas City, has an infected right foot and Stan Benjamin has a sprained right ankle.

Shawnee, Okla.—Maurice Van Robays, the Pittsburgh Pirate left fielder, was all smiles today, having played second string to Jimmy Wadell throughout most of the spring season he was surprised when Manager Frankie Frisch named him to his old post in the league opener next Tuesday. Wadell has been shifted to right.

Durham, N. C.—Manager Billy Southworth of the St. Louis Cardinals announced Howard Pollet and Harry Gumbert would hurl Saturday's opening game of the city spring series with the St. Louis Browns.

EXPERTS ALL AGREE YANKS BEST IN A. L.

New York, April 8.—(P)—The very best handicappers in the baseball business today tabbed the New York Yankees as a shoo-in for the American League pennant and the Boston Red Sox to nip the Chicago White Sox for second.

And if the Yanks, by some chance or other, should miss grabbing their second straight junior circuit championship—their sixth in seven years—there will be an exceptional collection of red faces among the baseball writers as 73 of the 76 voting in the annual Associated Press poll couldn't see the Bronx Bombers anywhere but on top of the other three, two placed the Yanks second and the other third. The three top ballots the Yanks didn't get were split—two to the White Sox (by Gene Kessler, Chicago Times, and Dave Hoff, P. Chicago) and one to the Red Sox (Burt Whitman, Boston Herald).

On a basis of eight points for a first place vote, seven for a second, six for a third, etc., the Yanks piled up 604 points—four less than perfection.

A photo finish, on the other hand, was forecast for the runner-up spot, with the Red Sox getting the call, 488 to 482, despite the two first-place ballots for Jimmy Dykes' Dandies. In predicting a duplicate of the 1941 pennant finish, the writers gave Boston 39 second place votes to 31 for the White Sox.

The field was well spread out behind the top three.

Detroit and Washington were the two outfits which seemed to have the experts stumped. They were picked anywhere from second to eighth.

The complete ranking order was New York, Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Detroit, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia.

Hurst Tournay to Aid Hale America Program
Philadelphia, April 8.—(P)—The "Hale America" program to build driving ranges and putting greens at Army, Navy and Marine stations will benefit from the 1942 Hurst Invitation Golf Tournament.

Backer Henry A. Hurst disclosed the first prize will be boosted to $5,000, and other awards will be increased to total $12,500 from last year's figures of $1,500 and $7,500.

The gate profits, which Hurst estimates will reach $10,000, will be used for the Hale America program.

SPOTTI REPLACED BY NOTCH ON FIGHT CARD
(Special to Times-Mirror)
Pittsburgh, Pa., April 8.—Carmen Notch, clever East Liberty Italian boy will meet Wicky Harkins in the semi-windup to the Fritz Zivic-Maxie Berger show at the Gardens next Monday night it was announced yesterday by Matchmaker Jake Mintz.

Notch is replacing Pete Spotti, hard puncher from Cecil who was injured in an automobile accident last week and will be on the flitic shelf for several months.

SPORT SPATTERINGS

Local PONY League fans will be interested in some dope on the team, and so we can tell you that Bradford will have only one player, Catcher Rocco DiStasio returning to the fold this year. . . . Jamestown has four, Greg Mulleavy and Johnny Newman, and Pitchers Shaffer and Rogals, both topflighters last year. . . . The Bradfords have 10 Sunday games at home this season. . . . Add Bradford sports: Fred Paige will call his track squad, one of the few surviving in District Nine, out this afternoon for its initial workout. . . . Everyone pleased locally with Erwin Rudolph's pair of exhibitions last night. . . . Come again, champ. . . . The Conewango Valley C. C. is expected to open officially early in May, but already a few linksmen have taken their first spring swing lessons. . . . Several community anglers voiced disapproval of the Victory parade being planned for April 15, opening day to tread along the trout streams. . . . But then, let the slogan be, "Stay in town and make the 'suckers' out of the Japs." . . . Thad Lawson announces that the Arcade Recreation will be open all summer this year for the benefit of bowlers. . . . Business should boom, because most people won't be going very far for entertainment. . . .

Speaking of bowling, Harry Bittenbender's new emporium should be ready by the April 20 date he set recently, if you can judge by the progress in work right now. . . . Alleys are in the process of being laid in the beds, things are coming to completion in quick fashion. . . . And why, if keggers are going to have an open range on which to bowl this summer, don't they organize some doubles leagues to make the pastime a bit more interesting? . . . They go over big in other towns. . . . Could do the same here. . . . A couple of different classes leagues, say with twenty teams, could really drum up a lot of interest in one of this country's fastest rising games. . . . Izaak Walton club members and other anglers were taken in with two interesting films at the meet at the "Y" last night, one on Silver Rainbow trout, and the other on Rocky Mountain Rainbows. . . . Fishermen are wondering just how safe it will be to park cars on country roads and then walk to a trout stream with tire rationing making those rubber circles quite valuable. . . . Special law enforcement will take care of any such problems, if necessary.

MacArthur Returns to West Point

Mrs. Arthur MacArthur unveils bust of her famous brother-in-law, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, as part of Army Day activities in Washington. Bust will be given to military academy at West Point.

War Production Board Names Stylist for American Women

men's clothes are finished. Principal effect of the order will be to fix maximum length and sweep of coats and skirts and simplify non-functional features. Voluminous sleeves will be eliminated, for example, but long sleeves are permitted; all-over pleating is barred, although pleating is permitted as decoration.

HEAD OF SECTION INTERPRETS ORDER
Washington, April 8.—(P)—Women who make dresses at home for their own use or their children's are not required to conform to the clothing order issued today by the War Production Board.

However, home dressmakers who sell their handiwork for profit and anyone else who makes clothes for sale must comply. Stanley Marcus, head of W.P.B.'s women's apparel section, told a conference of fashion writers here today.

"The order does not mean the standardization of women's clothing," the announcement said. "Within the limitations fixed in the order, fashion designers, dress manufacturers, and housewives are free to use their ingenuity in creating whatever fashions may strike their fancy."

Only two possibilities, apparently, remained to give the negotiations for the post-war Indian dominion status a new lease on life—that the eagerness on both sides for an agreement might produce satisfactory terms or that United States influence might be brought to bear on the involved situation.

Britain modified her original offer yesterday with the concession that an Indian become India's defense minister. It has failed to break the deadlock.

Penetration is Cause Of Withdrawal

Allied planes based in Australia were reported still slashing at Japanese air power on islands to the north.

Prime Minister John Curtin said American and Australian fliers scored direct hits yesterday on five or six grounded fighters and a number of bombers at Lae, New Guinea, shot down a lone aerial challenger and bombed Keopang, Dutch Timor, despite three interceptions by fighters. One Allied plane was reported missing.

WAINWRIGHT RECEIVES MESSAGE FROM HOME

San Francisco, April 8.—(P)—Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright, fighting the battle of his life against the Japanese on Bataan, received a broadcast "letter from home" today which included a message from his wife and a bark from his dog.

Mrs. Wainwright and the general's retriever, Seal, came here from Carmel, Calif., for the broadcast to the Philippines over the powerful shortwave radio station GEL. Her message was a feature of the "Freedom For the Philippines" program.

She also sent a message which was translated into Tagalog. In which she asked the Filipinos to "have faith and keep that faith," and promised that the United States never would forget them.

Both the German and Italian high commands said British advanced forces had been pushed back in the new surge of fighting. Egypt—Axis warplanes again pounded Britain's great naval base at Alexandria this morning, following up yesterday's attack in which 52 persons were killed and 80 wounded in the heaviest raid of the year.

Malta—Massed German bombers gave the British island stronghold its worst attack of the war yesterday and touched off the 2,000th alarm at the bomb-scarred Mediterranean base since June, 1940. Four Nazi planes were reported destroyed and three others damaged.

Crimea—Soviet dispatches said the Germans launched a heavy attack against Russian positions today, striking with 100 tanks, but were thrown back after several hours of fighting.

Squadrons of R.A.F. planes roared across the English Channel early today, and vapor trails laced the sky off the French coast between Cap Gris Nez and Calais, indicating dog fights between them and German aircraft.

In the battle of the Atlantic, the German high command reported that Nazi U-boats had sunk 16 Allied merchant ships totalling 104,000 tons in recent attacks on American and British supply lines.

Thirteen were listed as sunk off the American coast, the remainder off Africa.

Official German quarters also asserted that six out of 40 British-chartered Norwegian ships which attempted to break out of the Swedish port of Goteburg had been sunk by German naval and air forces. Two others were said to have fled back to Swedish territorial waters.

Two of the 10 apparently eluded the German blockade and reached Britain.

Washington, April 8.—(P)—The White House said today that General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, and Harry L. Hopkins, who has several war jobs including that of chairman of the munitions assignment board, had gone to London on "a perfectly normal wartime mission."

Mrs. Wainwright and the general's retriever, Seal, came here from Carmel, Calif., for the broadcast to the Philippines over the powerful shortwave radio station GEL. Her message was a feature of the "Freedom For the Philippines" program.

She also sent a message which was translated into Tagalog. In which she asked the Filipinos to "have faith and keep that faith," and promised that the United States never would forget them.

Everyone Asked to Assist in Preventing Fires in Forests

Arrival of the forest fire season brought a warning from authorities here and in Harrisburg today that the state may suffer the most disastrous forest fire experience in the history of the Forest and Waters Department unless everyone helps.

George H. Wirt, chief of forest fire wardens, has ordered more vigilance among watchers stationed in 144 state fire towers sprinkled through the 13,000,000 acres of forests over the state.

In Warren, William H. Smith, head of the Complanter district of the state forestry organization, stated that extra precautions are being urged throughout the area in an effort to avoid serious fires.

Fire towers in this district have been manned since April 1 and a special educational program is being carried on among residents of the sections adjoining forests in an effort to have available as many potential fire fighters as possible.

Setting of woodland camp fires during April and May should be limited to those absolutely necessary, it was stated. If everybody would stop setting outdoor fires in these two chief months of hazard, there would be none to fight, it was pointed out.

The State Defense Council has joined in efforts to half blazes, terming setting of forest fires either intentionally or carelessly "sabotage of the war effort." The number of state incendiary fires is estimated at 10 percent of the total.

Smith said today that special attention is being paid to probable incendiary fires in this section, particularly because of the fact that important oil fields are located in the district. He warned that anyone found guilty of incendiarism will be severely dealt with.

In Harrisburg, Wirt reported the only forest fire of any proportion in Pennsylvania this season swept 500 acres of private land in Carbon county. Moisture from the heavy snow 10 days ago soaked in to leaves and removed some of the danger common this time of year.

The chief warden, however, has his forces marshalled as far as possible for any eventuality with older men not subject to the draft, young men and even women taking the places of wardens called into military service or going into war industries.

The regular staff of 24 district foresters, 60 state forest rangers and 12 inspectors for protection work has been augmented by 50 full-time inspectors hired to man lookout towers. They were chosen from the 3,900 fire wardens in the 67 counties.

Wirt said withdrawal of CCC camps had not seriously hampered the organization of protection forces since such help always was regarded as of a temporary nature. There are only four CCC camps on state forest land now compared with 102 several years ago.

Pennsylvania Draft System Change Made

Return to the original system of inducting young men into the army immediately after they pass final physical examinations has been accomplished in Pennsylvania "with scarcely a flurry," it was stated at Selective Service headquarters in Harrisburg today.

Butler Club Is Preparing For Meeting

Leonard Rosenzweig, who has been named by President Calvin Hall of the local Rotary Club to promote attendance at the annual Governor's Conference of the 175th district, Rotary International, to be held at Butler, May 7 and 8, reports the Butler club is already actively preparing for the event.

Several clubs, even at this early date, have voted to attend the conference in a body.

The 1942-43 officers of the local club are expected to attend and every Rotarian is invited. The district is made up of 33 clubs in towns in northwestern Pennsylvania, with a total membership of near 1317.

J. Lee McFate of New Castle, the present governor, has designated O. J. Binford, former president of the Butler Club, as general conference chairman.

More Food Is Provided By "V" Gardens

Soon it will be time to plant gardens. The United States Government this year is urging planting of "victory gardens" to augment the family supply of needed foods and to safeguard the family's health throughout the emergency.

One reason for this emphasis on using any patch of ground available for vegetables to serve, fresh or preserved, is the drain on food resources caused by our supplying our allies with foods. Another is the shortage of tin, which is causing scarcity of some foods.

But the main reason for the "victory garden" is its impact on individual health, which today is as important to maintain as it is important to maintain the health of a soldier in camp or a sailor at sea.

With a greater supply of fresh foods, vegetables and fruits, the home-maker can serve foods rich in vitamins and minerals to her family while the garden is growing and producing. And the surplus can be preserved for later use through modern oven-canning, which is one of the great advantages modern Gas cooking affords.

It is an easier and simpler method than the old-time way of canning in the home and is made possible by the close and accurate temperature control provided by modern Gas ranges.

In planning your garden this spring, be sure to include plenty of green leafy vegetables. You may make two or more plantings of such vegetables as beans, spinach, sweet corn, carrots, beets, cabbage and tomatoes.

Keep your garden in good condition. Cultivate early and throughout the season to keep down weeds and keep the soil in good shape.

Women have an opportunity to plan for good food habits and to serve their families the right kinds of foods to keep them healthy and fit for strenuous and efficient living.

The United States Government and the American Red Cross are cooperating to provide full information on home canning of fruits and vegetables. It has been estimated by the Department of Agriculture that the proper quantity of foods for one adult during the course of a year is 100 quarts, covering the main types of foods considered essential to good health. These contain the vitamins and minerals which the body calls for, in addition to other factors.
